MSc in Computer Engineering

Outcomes:
1. Ability develop and/or extend an advanced method in computer science
2. Ability to understand and implement in code a given proposal expressed in a technical paper
3. Ability to specify and search the literature relevant to a given problem in computer science
4. Awareness of the mathematical foundations of computer science solutions
5. Awareness of the principles underlying current advanced technologies
6. Ability to express technical content verbally and in writing