Born in Kastamonu in 1942. After his secondary education at Kastamonu High School and Istanbul Kabatas Erkek High School, he studied Interior Architecture at the İstanbul Devlet Güzel Sanatlar Akademisi. He graduated from this school with a master of Interior Architect degree.

He worked at a private firm on occupational projects and applications until he went to military service. He started his business life by opening up a furniture workshop and interior architect firm in 1975 in Istanbul. In time, this workshop became a furniture factory which turned the design of Salih Gomleksiz's designs into reality. By opening up his first furniture store in 1980, he also entered into marketing of furniture besides manufacturing. These stores became more in number in different neighborhoods in Istanbul as kitchen and furniture stores.

He accepted the offer that came from the department of Interior Architecture of Yeditepe University's Fine Arts Faculty to be an instructor in 1997-1998 academic year and began working as an instructor. He took role in Projects and Graduation Project lessons until he left in 2005.

While his business life and teaching career continued, he was chosen as the head of the Chamber of Interior Architects of Marmara Region and one year after he became the president of the Chamber of Interior Architects. He published a magazine named as "Interior Architecture" He wrote Professional articles for this magazine. He is working on projects, entering design contests from time to time and still working in Interior Architecture Department at Fine Arts Faculty in Isik University as an instructor.
